ANOTHER JURY IS UNABLE TO AGREE
IN THE RUIZ CASE

Jury Out Seven and a Half Hours, Excepting Supper Time; Defendants Charged With Murder of Isidro Baca

The second jury in the case of Narciso Ruiz, Sr., and his son, Manuel, was unable to agree upon a verdict.
The first jury, which heard the case at the September term of court, adjudged likewise.

The case went to the jury shortly before 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Shortly before 10 o'clock, S.
H. Seth, foreman, reported to Judge H. F. Reynolds that the jury could not agree. The court then excused the jury, saying he understood that the case was one in which reasonable men might hold different opinions.
Ruiz and his son were charged with the murder of Isidro Baca, whose body was found one night last June on the road leading from the Tijeras canyon highway to La Canada, where he lived. At least two charges from a shotgun, or shotgun, had been fired into Baca's body. Empty shells of two calibers were found near the place where the body lay.

The state's case was circumstantial.
The defense was an alibi.

SEE MISS TALIAFERRO
AT THE LYRIC TODAY
IN HER GREAT PRICE

The role that Miss Taliaferro delineates in "Her Great Price" is a composite of many of the parts she has played upon the speaking stage. It has all the charming simplicity of "Lovey Mary," the role she had in "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch," the vivaciousness of "Dolly," her delightful starring role in "Polly of the Circus," the more bitting part of "Dolly" in Shaw's "You Can Never Tell," the fascination of "Madeline" in Booth Tarkington and Henry Leon Wilson's "Springtime," and the compelling interest and enchantment of "Cinderella," the first feature picture in which Miss Taliaferro appeared.

Miss Taliaferro has a strong supporting cast in this production, which includes Henry Mortimer, Richard Barber, George Pannecote, William Cahill, Ruth Chester, and Jeannette Horton. Mr. Mortimer, who is at his best in the leading role, and does the best work in his career.

TWO PRETTY EASTER
DECORATION WINDOWS
AT THE ECONOMIST

There are several exceedingly pretty Easter decoration windows at the various first-class dry goods stores of the city. The most attractive, in the opinion of the Morning Journal, is at the city. The two front show windows of "The Economist" store, Ben Puryear, the decorator and dress goods salesman, is the artist to whom credit is due, and he truly executed his work in the most approved, original fashion. The window is divided into two parts, the top part being of white and blue, while the bottom part is of white and blue. The window also contains the necessary artistic touches, such as hosiery, handkerchiefs, and parasols, all in match color combination. The silks used in the decorations are Georgette crepe, crepe de chine and tulle, the three most popular dress materials of the season.

The west window is a striking color combination of red, blue and white.
The window is divided into two parts, the top part being of red and white, and the bottom part of blue and white.

STAR WM. FARNUM IN "THE BONDMAN"
NOW AT THE PASTIME

One of the most skillful bits of acting ever seen in photoplay is done by William Farnum, who plays two separate parts in "The Bondman," a William Fox production of Hall Caine's celebrated novel. Mr. Farnum, who, while on the legitimate stage, appeared for five solid years in "Ben Hur," plays the parts of Stephen Orry and Jason Orry, father and son.

The types are radically dissimilar.
Stephen Orry is a huge, heavy-limbed giant; a vagabond, indifferent to the needs of those dependent upon him.
Jason, the son, who vows to kill his dissolute father, is a vigorous clean-cut type. In the development of the action there is a lapse of several years and Stephen becomes an old man. The transition from the Stephen of middle life to the aged Stephen shows Mr. Farnum to display to the utmost his exceptional dramatic talent.

In one of the scenes Jason rescues Stephen during a shipwreck and swims to shore with him. In view of the fact that Mr. Farnum plays both parts, the scene constitutes one of the most remarkable photographic achievements since the advent of photoplay.

At the Pastime theater today and tomorrow.

BELIEVE ESCAPING
CONVICT TOOK HORSE
FROM CAMP ON MESA

A horse, believed to have been ridden by Jose Ramirez in escaping from the convict camp in Tijeras canyon, was traced back to Albuquerque yesterday. C. W. Hunter, poundmas-ter, rounded up the animal. Later the owner, who was trailing the horse, appeared and claimed him.
The horse disappeared from a camp on the mesa east of here, the night Ramirez escaped. The horse was traced along the road to Isleta. The police believe Ramirez has gone in that direction.

TWO NEW WORLD'S RECORDS ESTABLISHED AT DRAKE STADIUM

BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE.
DEN MOBILE, Ia., April 22.—Three new world records were broken and two new world's records established today in the university class at the seventh annual Drake relay meet, held in the Drake stadium here. Seven thousand and persons thronged the stadium.

In the special 220-yard dash, the feature event of the program, Hoyt of Grinnell college, romped away from his competitors, completing the distance in 21 2-5. Hopman, of Illinois, was second, and Shearer, of Drake, a close third. Hoyt's time represents a new world record for the 220 on a curved outdoor track.

In the four-mile university event, Wisconsin outdistanced all other competitors and broke the meet record for the distance, finishing in 18:03 2-5. The former record, also held by Wisconsin, was 18:04 2-5.

Wisconsin took from Chicago the meet record of 1:30 for the half mile relay, made in 1915. The Badger runners took the lead from the start and were never headed. Hopman of Illinois finished second with Hardy of Notre Dame the closest sort of a third. The winner's time was 1:28 4-5, a new world's record.

The one-mile event in the university class also developed close competition with Wisconsin, Chicago and Missouri in the first positions, and finishing in the order named. Smith, the last Wisconsin man to run, stepped across the line for a time of 2:22 2-5, cutting the former record held by Chicago by an even two seconds.

The two-mile university event was an easy victory for Purdue, Ames being the runner-up, with Kansas third in 8:01 2-5, 1 2-5 seconds slower than last year's time.

In the college class Morningside won the two-mile event in 8:17 2-5, clipping three-fifths of a second from the former record held by themselves, with Cornell and South Dakota runners-up.

BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE.
BERKELEY, Calif., April 22.—Fred Murphy, Stanford university's track star, who shone last Saturday by winning three events against the University of California, added to his athletic lustre today by winning the 120-yard high hurdles in the world's record time of 15 seconds flat, and also placing first in the 100-yard dash and in the 220-yard sprint at the Pacific association championships.

Oliver Millard of the San Francisco Olympic club, long regarded as the premier amateur of Pacific coast distance runners, lost the five-mile run to Edgar Stout, a club mate, in one of the most desperate finishes seen on the coast.

Millard led the entire distance, only to be nosed out at the tape. Two new Pacific coast association championship records were established when E. H. Snell of Stanford won the 800-yard run in one minute and 59 seconds and F. L. Maker of the University of California negotiated 23 feet 1-2 inches in the broad jump.

California won the meet with a total of 55 points. Stanford was second with 61.
